

The Henrico County Department of Planning has an opening for a Planner a I, II or III in the Development Review and Design Division, which focuses on review of detailed engineered plans of development, subdivision plans, architectural plans, landscape plans, site lighting plans, and building permit applications for conformity with county codes and regulations, zoning proffers, the comprehensive plan, good planning and engineering principles, and county development policies. This involves considerable latitude for project implementation in areas such as site design, architectural design, and overall landscaping and plantings.

For more information and to apply: <https://henrico.us/services/jobs/>