

Mid-Level Landscape Architect or Soon-to-be Landscape Architect

Location

Norfolk, Virginia is the regional urban hub for Hampton Roads and is located along the historic Elizabeth River harbor. As one of the most at-risk coastal cities in America, it is also at the forefront of some of the boldest efforts in resiliency and adaptation to threats of sea level rise and climate change. Norfolk is a vibrant, green, and walkable city with great access to the Interstate, bus routes, trains, and the Norfolk International Airport. It boasts some of the nation's finest museums, parks, and entertainment venues, and it is home to some of the largest military bases and commercial ports in the country. As an international hub and diverse cultural center for Virginia with a host of unique experiences, Norfolk is a great place to live, work, and play.

Description

Are you looking for an enjoyable design studio where your work is meaningful, and you are recognized for your efforts? How would you like to be engaged as a pivotal team member in every level of design? If so, look no further, we are the design office for you! We have a casual office environment, an enthusiastic team of design professionals, and a sincere design practice dedicated to quality work. We are an award-winning firm engaged in local and national level planning and design projects. Given our high-profile work, we continue to put an emphasis on public places and matching client values of sustainability, resiliency, beauty, functionality, and longevity. We have a strong vision and a plan for growth as we are led by landscape architects and supported by many other disciplines. Our diversified group of landscape architects is looking for you if you are passionate about design quality and teamwork. We are looking for strong interpersonal skills, an eagerness to learn, ability to manage multiple projects, and exceptional writing and public speaking capabilities. We want you to have an ability to draw and have a proficient knowledge of construction documentation and construction administration. Duties for this position include project management and client interaction, conceptual and technical design tasks, public presentation, construction administration, coordination with in-office engineers and architects and out-of-house consultants, computer drafting / modeling, assembly of construction document sets, and mentoring junior staff as available.

We would love to have you join us Full Time in our office! If you have a great attitude and strong work ethic, please send us a cover letter with a paragraph about yourself along with your resume and portfolio. We look forward to meeting you!

Prerequisites include:

- Bachelor's Degree or higher from an accredited university in Landscape Architecture
- Landscape Architect License (candidates must be willing to obtain a license within 2-years of hiring)
- Preferable 4+ years' design office experience in a variety of project types across various scales of work
- Working in the office full time (this is not a remote-work opportunity)
- Ability to manage self and others; we are looking for a leader
- Ability to take direction and critique and work in a team setting
- Willingness to travel out of state, on occasion, based on project requirements
- Organizational skills

- High degree of spelling and grammar awareness
- High self-motivation, fun-loving and people-person attitude
- Broad knowledge of technical design
- Ability to draw by hand and label with legible handwriting
- Proficiency in AutoCAD (experience with Land F/X is a plus), the Adobe Creative Suite
- Working knowledge of SketchUp, and various renderers
- A passion for working with people and communicating by phone and in-person.

Employees are offered a competitive compensation package which includes a retirement program and paid holidays, as well as health, life, dental, vision, and disability insurances.

Submit a cover letter with resume and portfolio to our Human Resource Department at:

Stromberg/Garrigan & Associates
300 E. Main Street
Suite 1400
Norfolk, VA 23510
careers@s-ga.com

Mailed hardcopies receive priority review.

Stromberg/Garrigan & Associates, Inc. is an Equal Opportunity Employer and values a diverse workplace.